

Harper's Bazaar Russia

In the Mist, May 2006

The artist Stephen Sumner, formerly an art director of an important British publishing house, a few years ago decided to exchange a job for a calling and moved to New York in order to fully dedicate himself to painting. You can see his abstract atmospheric landscapes in his exhibition Later, After, from May 18 to June 10 at the MMMA (Moscow Museum of Modern Art).