This American-born Mexican painter is highly recognized for his astonishing printmaking, drawings and figurative watercolor paintings through his use of vibrant watercolors and other unique approaches.

Condé's use of watercolors on his homemade paper is truly magnificent providing numerous stand-out pieces in the display. It is remarkable to believe that this incredible artist is self-taught.

His artistic career has allowed him to be able to live and work in the USA and Spain, where he still currently resides splitting his time between Madrid and Sitges. Having the opportunity to live in such international artistic locations allowed for a multitude of diverse experiences; which are noticeably represented in his thought-provoking work of over 25 paintings, watercolors, and drawings that are currently on display.

Condé also lived in Paris where in 1963 the French Government awarded him the Guggenheim Latin American Fellowship Award, which he adds to his list of many important international prizes.
