

From top: The bustling bar at Cadet; at Serge Sorokko Gallery, discover incredible art.

Vintners Jeff Durham and Joey Wolosz host guests in the kitchen of a reimagined 1926 craftsman bungalow while telling fabulous stories about anything and everything. You'll sit at the counter and try sips of elegant chardonnay while nibbling on a slice of quiche Lorraine that Joey just pulled from the oven. It's the most casually elegant, unpretentious tasting I've ever experienced. 1564 First St., Napa, 707.948.6107, gentlemanfarmerwines.com

Flora Springs Wine Lounge

With teal velvet couches, ornate chandeliers, fringe-lined bar stools, and statues of Roman goddesses, Flora Springs Wine Lounge is not your grandmother's tasting room. Sip the brand's Trilogy Bordeaux blend alongside cheese, charcuterie and chocolate in this refined setting, unlike any other space in the area. 1142 First St., Napa, florasprings.com

Alpha Omega Collective

Try Robin and Michelle Baggett's two wineries at the Alpha Omega Collective. Compare Rutherford's cabernet sauvignon from Alpha Omega with Edna Valley's pinot noir from Tolosa, or learn about chardonnay by tasting one from each winery. It's a master class in California winemaking styles. 1245 First St., Napa, 707.294.6960, alphaomegacollective.com

Cadet

Cadet is a dreamy wine bar down a side alley with a superb wine and beer list, a fantastic vibe and sensational snacks. Every day from 5 to 6 p.m., wines by the glass and draft beers are half off. The team throws fun parties, so if you're into music and DJs, be sure to follow along on Instagram. 930 Franklin St., Napa, cadetbar.com

SHOP

Serge Sorokko Gallery

Earlier this year, Serge Sorokko opened a second gallery (1301 First St.), a few storefronts away from his original space (1500 First St.). The first location is now a dedicated exhibition venue, while the new gallery is the primary space for daily visitors and rotating artist presentations. Currently on view at 1500 First St. is Eclipse, Vasily Klyukin's first solo exhibition in Napa, featuring sculptures, works in brass and light-based art. 1301 First St., 1500 First St., Napa, 415.421.7770, sorokko.com

CADET PHOTO BY EMMA K CREATIVE; GALLERY PHOTO BY BRUCE DAMONTE

Copperfield's Books

Copperfield's is a beloved book chain with locations throughout the Bay Area. The charming Napa boutique is filled with interesting reads—any book your heart desires. The staff is knowledgeable and friendly, and can help shoppers find the perfect novel or gift for every occasion. 1300 First St., Ste. 398, Napa, 707.252.8002, copperfieldsbooks.com

Tay & Grace

Discover printed dresses, chic separates, everyday denim, soft knits and more at Tay & Grace. The shop is run by a mother-daughter duo who stock it with pieces from brands like The

Great, Pistola, Rails and Velvet. 1300 First St., Ste. 315, Napa, 707.637.4500, tayandgrace.com

Antiques on Second

Vintage clothing, furniture, kitchenware, decor and more can be found at Antiques on Second. The store features unique treasures in the form of European, American and Asian antiques and collectibles. 1370 Second St., Napa, 707.252.6353, antiquesonsecond.co

From top: Find the perfect read at Copperfield's Books; shop for stylish womenswear at Tay and Grace.

Oxbow Public Market

If you're looking for edible gifts from Napa Valley, make a stop at Oxbow Public Market, where you can shop for olive oil, spices, chocolate, coffee, cheese, charcuterie and even produce. If you're hungry, there are plenty of food vendors from burgers at Gott's Roadside to bagels at Loveski Deli to seafood at Hog Island Oyster Company. 610 & 644 First St., Napa, 707.226.6529, oxbowpublicmarket.com

Culinary Institute of America at Copia

Robert Mondavi established Copia as a wine and food museum before the Culinary Institute of America took over in 2016. Today, CIA at Copia is home to a beautiful culinary garden; a marketplace stocked with cookbooks, kitchen tools and wine country-inspired items; the Chuck Williams Culinary Arts Museum; and a wine bar and restaurant, The Grove, that serves Mediterranean-inspired cuisine. Look for classes, wine dinners and grand tastings. 500 First St., Napa, 707.967.2500, ciafoodies.com/cia-copia

